MODS

Posted by *amberlicious* - 2009/09/27 17:27

Ok since alot of people want to bitch about the mods and how they do their job we dont have mods anymore....

How do yall feel bout that?

We really need mods on here... People dont know how to act without them... They act as if they was raised by a pack of wild wolves... People need to grow up big time...

Yea i dont think we needed as many as we needed but we do need one or two in each room...

Everyone add ur comments and lets see what we can get done here...

Maybe if we get enough comments bout needing them we can get a few of them back i think we need mods. at least 2 in each room, and they have to do their job, who needs some one with a power trip ;)

that is all.

i agree, but when people ask about it, we shouldnt shoot them down unless we really figure out whether they can manage it.

the time limit thing, i agree with. i've only been active on here for half a week, but i know about regulars and the non-regs. I was a member of the mspace pagan chat for 5 years, so i KNOW how some people act. Once you've been exposed to that for so long, it helps to have someone you can turn to who is able to remove them for the sanity and happiness of the room in general.

However, i also agree that there should be a limit on their power. Some people (not giving names) get power trips and decide they have the power to do as they want, however inappropriate. Lead by example. Perhaps it would be beneficial to the public in general if we have quarterly evaluations on the mods, to see how they're coping?

I'm always going to play devil's advocate on this.

i agree totaly ther has to be some here to keep some peace, many time before i became a mod in lobby i would be in there chatting with some good freinds and some disrespeckfull ass would come in and tear up the hole room , they always go after the women

i agree there was some mods over time that let it go to there heads but they were delt with and removed i alwas was fare when i had to do what i had to do , any one that feals i was not doing what i was saposе to do feal free to tell me i am not god many have know me i have been here almost a year, meet and made many freinds here and seen way to many assholes come and go but A LOT OF THEM BAD EGGS ARE STILL HERE,i will give no names, most regulares know who they are

i am a straight male i come here to chatt with some freinds and catch what happeningthat was nice part of the lobby here a safe place now i can see it going back to sitting ther trying to fight of the pervs the assholes and the camhores

WAIT A MINUTE THAS YAHOO CHATT THATS WHY I CAME HERE

Hontestly I think this is the best thing you have done Spencer because sum people being a mod of a chat room makes them think they are the presdent of the US but me myself i think there should be a mood that goes from rrom to room every so often but only a few mods like 2 or 3 but opions are like assholes everyone has ones but i will say in my books the mods been longest and did the best not kickin no one unles the had to would be Amber and Jake ev ev even though Jake didn't care for me he still did one hell off a job! But if people want to run the chat and nr mods let them buy stock in oohyaa chat!! Thank you

Yea well everyone is coming to me whinning bout no mods and people being fucktards

People theres nothing i can do.. With me starting this forum to show that MODS are needed is all i can now right now..

Just keep complaining and showing we need MODS and hopefully they will be added back

And Hopefully it will be the RIGHT mods..

Those that took the power to the head dont need it and they know who they are..

Keep speaking ur mind bout the mods and the people thats being jerks block them and or report me if its that bad

Yea I agree..... We need a mod or 2. Definitely not 7. Some people who come in causing trouble should be dealt with. That is where the mod steps in. BUT we also need mods that aren't starting trouble as well. I can understand where some of the complaints may have been, maybe it wasn't smart to start letting just anyone be mod. Isn't that when the problems started???

Well when I started oohya I dont ever even recall seeing more than 5 to 10 ppl in rooms when sf first started the site. Overall with mods it does help. Only reason I really think that a mod is needed basically for hararressment reasons, underage people, or just your usual trouble makers. I do think that the mods should be limited to a few less per room. Overall I dont care if im a mod or not because of my friends ive come to know on this site, stupid ppl in the room I just basically ignore, since we have a iggy button I tend to use it. When ur site grows the range of variety in ppl come with it and so do problems. I do love this site for what friends ive come to know, and tend to know in the future. Mods or not its still a place to chat when u need a friend or a fight, lol. Being purely honest I do think they are needed for specific reasons. Denise

MOST mods abused their power and it became way beyond a joke. Some of them actually cause more drama in chat than anyone else!

You're all whining about people causing shit now, uh.. That's what the BLOCK button is for? Try it, it actually works! Profiles have the "Report User" option, try using that, too. Come on, I have faith in you guys!!

As for the "bots" and such, why do we need mods to kick them out? Again.. Use the block button and I'm sure Spencer will come across the bot in his own time and ban it.

Man up, people, jeez. It's about time some of you started to stand up for yourself. If you're threatening to leave 'cause you lost your status or disagree with the change, then good riddens. Have fun with life.

PS - To the chick boasting in chat that she WILL be made a mod again, all I've got to say to you is.. Go get some fresh air, I hear it's good for you.

Here's the deal, the mods became more trouble than the regular members, at that point what's the point of having mods?

USE THE BLOCK FUNCTION:

If someone says something you don't like, someone calls you a name, or they're playing music you don't like, BLOCK THEM! Now I understand that there are some cases where a person needs to be removed from the site, in those cases report them from their profile and they'll be dealt with if it's legit. Please don't report people for "starting drama", calling you a name, being a dick, playing music you don't like, not agreeing with you, not letting you see their webcam, or not chatting with you. I really don't care about those types of things and I'm not going to ban those people.

Seriously, some of you REALLY need to get a little thicker skin if you want to chat online with multiple people, not everyone is going to agree with you, like you, or kiss your ass. And yes, some people are only going into chat to get a rise out of thin skinned people that take what people say in a silly chat room waaaaaay too seriously. Have some of you ever wondered why it seems that those types of people always zero in on you? It's because they get a rise out of YOU while everyone else simply ignores the idiots, it's exactly what they want and you give it to them!

Let's look at this from my perspective for a minute:

Do you guys think I just woke up one morning and thought "Gee, I'd sure like to start a chat site so I can spend my time running a daycare for adults that act like they're 6, reading through emails and IM's about how so and so called somebody a bad name, so and so said the f word, or so and so is mean to me? Also, it got to a point where I couldn't even chat in the site anymore without using a different name where people didn't know me, as soon as I'd log into chat I'd instantly get blasted with "make me a mod, why can't I be a mod" pm's. Then shortly after being blasted with that I'd get blasted from mods complaining about other mods. I could never even see the regular chat screen, it was all just pm's about mods. It's just not worth it in my book. The mods are supposed to show good judgment and act with a bit of professionalism, the majority of them rarely showed either. It just all got too silly and out of hand, it all just turned into who could boss who around and that's not what mods are supposed to be about. I posted things in the mod group on how I expected mods to act and when and how they were supposed to handle things but most of the mods either never read them or simply ignored them. I know that not all mods were like this, some did a great job for the most part, but it's at a point where I'm just done with the whole mess.

I will most likely bring a few mods back eventually, but I doubt I ever make regular members mods again, it just doesn't work. Instead it will most likely be people I get locally to do it that I hire, I'd rather pay someone than go through all that nonsense again. So everyone that is holding their breath that they're going to be mods again soon can probably forget the idea. Nobody on this site is more important than anyone else and it's going to stay that way. I've got enough politics to deal with in real life without having every single person in chat running for modship, backstabbing each other trying to be the king mod lol.

Everyone that wants to leave because they don't get to strut around chat and act more important than everyone else anymore are free to do so. For many of you it might be worth spending the money to chat somewhere like PalTalk where they have dedicated babysitters round the clock to hold your hand for you. The hand holding and coddling is done here, this isn't day care anymore. Really, if you lack social skills, a social site is probably not the place for you to be.

(Also, why was this thread started in the "Books" section? I'm moving it to "OohYa Chat Help".)

sf i understand what your saying but group punishment isnt the answer, more of telling people to suck it up and deal with it is, and picking mods that actually dont put up with the shit starters bs would do wonders,it was getting to the point where there were waaaay to many mods and for what reason? i did everything you asked and feel like i was punished. I know first hand that there are people coming to me saying that I was one of the best mods ever, regardless of the complaints, those were the thin skinned shit starters. I say pick your mods and back them up and trust them, if someone want to whine about them tell them to deal with it or leave. I definantly wouldnt have anyone work for me that I didnt trust fully!!! mods are needed but yes I agree there are those that have power and control issues, but I cant stand going where some dickhead can run his mouth about some of the good people and nothing can be done!
that being said I hope I see green soon again to maintain the peace.
and mustangsally is person that talks out of two sides of her mouth and is one of the shit starters. she has a problem with people giving respect, well act like a person that deserves it and you will get it. If you didnt notice thats a period!

Dear Mr. Big.

From what I've seen, you cause drama just as much as anyone else. I've ALSO seen you abuse your power and I disagree with the "I was one of the best mods ever" statement you made. In my opinion, you were one of the worst. You creep around the ladies and I've seen you posting pictures in chat of a certain member here, isn't that against the rules?
Again with the "I cant stand going where some dickhead can run his mouth about some of the good people and nothing can be done!" Use the block button!! Trust me, it is not that hard.

JoAnna.

Mr Big, isn't trying to start a flame war with Sally in the forum kind of starting shit? I know who's done what and who's accused who of doing what, I'm the one that gets the reports. This is exactly why we no longer have mods, the backstabbing, taddle-taling, arguing, name calling, and ego trips were all too much, all of this from the people that are supposed to be moderating the rooms, not starting the trouble themselves.

Please read the following definition and tell me if anyone believes these define our moderators:

Definition of moderator: One that arbitrates or mediates

Definition of mediate:

1. To resolve or settle (differences) by working with all the conflicting parties: mediate a labor-management dispute.
2. To bring about (a settlement, for example) by working with all the conflicting parties.
3. To effect or convey as an intermediate agent or mechanism.

v.intr.

1. To intervene between two or more disputants in order to bring about an agreement, a settlement, or a compromise.
2. To settle or reconcile differences.
3. To have a relation to two differing persons or things.

adj. (-t)

1. Acting through, involving, or dependent on an intervening agency.
2. Being in a middle position.

I even made Jakester an admin to try and moderate the moderators since he was one of the most laid back mods we had. He went from a laid back person to an increasingly frustrated angry person having to deal with the constant nonsense. A person that is supposed to moderate the moderators really shouldn't have to do much I'm sure you would all agree.

I didn't get rid of the mods as a punishment, I got rid of them because they became more of a headache than they were worth. I'm not making any regular members mods again, bottom line, it's just not going to happen. Again, it's not a punishment, it just simply doesn't work so it doesn't make sense to keep them.

Re:MODS

its true that i've only been here for a few days... but here's the black and white that all of ya'll fail to realize. When Spencer decides to do what he feels is beneficial to the chatrooms, then he will do it. Until then, all we are doing is sitting around and bitching about something that's in our control already.

Someone's harrassing you? block them. You can't block them, ignore them. As far as they're concerned, they're just a name on the screen. Now, as far as family goes... now, i love ya'll just as much as i love my own family. If you don't like what's going on... suck it up and drive on. You're not in charge. Point blank viewpoint is that there's no point bitching about something that is going to be handled when he feels the time is right in a manner that pleases him, as well as a manner that is beneficial to the site in general.

I know this may sound harsh, but that's how things are. i agree with someone's previous arguement. (i don't remember off the top of my head who it was that said this, but i'll restate what was said.) SOme peopel come in because they wanna get their rocks off by tickin' the regulars off. ignore them. focus on those who are friends and/or family. Otherwise, your bad mood will be turned into someone elses, and the circle will continue.

As far as drama goes... GET OVER IT. Mods are done and gone. so, now, if you have a problem with someone, you can discuss it with them on a one-on-one basis AND NOT IN FRONT OF EVERYONE in the room. WE DON'T WANNA HEAR YOUR DRAMA or complaints about what a mod did. it's done and its over. MOVE ON.

Spencer, youre the architect of this room. therefore, it is up to you. we may not like what you have decided, but if htis community is going to survive, we do have to accept the decisions that have been made and adapt to the ones in the future.

THAT's how i see it.

i personally agree that this chatroom needs about 3 mods in both the lobby and adult webcam room to maintain order and peace in the chat. since the mods were fired the rooms seem over run by cam whores and complete douchebags, and there isnt anything that can be done. also all the fuckers that were on the blacklist for good reasons are all making their way back into the chat room :unsure: some of the mods did a wonderful job. Michelle and Carl, chi chi, rin, spicy, amber, 7 and dr1v3r all did fantastic job at being moderators. i am not going to mention the ones that just let it get to their head and had power trips because their names were in green at the top of the list ;) this is my opinion. and i think it was better with some sort of discipline and order. thank you much!

I like it with no mods because personally i think ALOT of the mods had power trip issues and now we are all back on the same level... I personally think its better this way, even thou i was a mod
